

ICN PROVIDES CENTRAL RESOURCE FOR DEVELOPMENT PROJECT INFORMATION.

NOVEMBER 2010

Businesses interested in keeping up to date with major projects happening on the Downs or further afield should visit www.icnqld.org.au.

This site is run by the Queensland Government funded Industry Capability Network (ICN).

The aim of ICN (Queensland) is to identify procurement opportunities to increase local industry access to major domestic and global projects.

Of particular interest to prospective development project or resource industry suppliers is the ability to register on ICN's database.

By completing the details of your business and the services or products you provide you will receive notification of opportunities that arise that match your business.

In addition, the ICN site provides a wide range of information that may be useful to businesses chasing the development dollar. Our experience with clients across the region suggests many clients find it difficult to source and secure supply contracts for many of the larger projects that occur across the region.

The ICN is staffed with people from a broad variety of backgrounds in Engineering, Technology and Procurement. This enables ICN to identify products, services and capabilities to assist in the acquisition of goods and/or services to replace imports and retain opportunities for local industry.

This link will take you to the ICN Gateway where you can register the details of your business to be notified of opportunities as they arise.

ICN's core services are provided at no charge as their costs are subsidised by Government.

There is a local Regional Manager for the Darling Downs Region, Evan Flower, and his office is located at 203 Tor Street, Toowoomba should you wish to make face to face contact.
